Community support

Together we can make Ocular Melanoma a little less rare which is why we connect others through our virtual community support groups.

These are hosted on Eventbrite every Tuesday and Friday however if you prefer to meet face to face then we do have a number of volunteer led in person meet ups.

Not available? We also have a number of online communities where you can meet affected by Ocular Melanoma.

Our Helpline

We understand that talking to someone close to you about yours or someone else's diagnosis can be difficult, which is why our helpline offers confidential support.

Whilst we cannot provide clinical or legal advice, we can help you interpret the national guidelines of Uveal Melanoma, signpost you to the right people and be here to listen when you need to talk.
